

Based on the information I have seen, this will render many of the HF frequencies useless for Amateur Radio users, as well as the USAF and USCG. This seems completely unnecessary, since the urban areas are so thoroughly wired with cable.